

There are dozens of channels I never watch, but must pay for in order to get the package that includes the ones I do watch, such as CNN, etc. I would love to be able to skip all the sports, cooking and shopping channels. There must be a better way to structure and price cable TV offerings.